

Analytical Chemists Urgently Required

NORTH YORKSHIRE | EXCELLENT PACKAGE + BONUS + PENSION

Are you looking to fast track your career within a laboratory?

Broughton Laboratories Limited is a growing independent analytical laboratory servicing the pharmaceutical and healthcare industries. With an advanced range of equipment and state of the art facilities we are now presenting a great opportunity to join our team and become part of our success story.

We are seeking to recruit hard working, highly motivated and professional individuals capable of working within a fast-moving quality laboratory environment. You will be responsible for performing analytical and physical chemistry analysis to support both technical projects and GMP compliant QC testing.

You will be a graduate in a chemistry-related discipline with a good working knowledge of chromatography techniques or A-level qualified and looking to pursue a career within this field. Applications are welcomed from more experienced analytical chemists, however this is not a pre-requisite. This is an excellent opportunity for the right calibre individual to fast track their career in the field of healthcare science.

We are situated within Broughton Hall Business Park, one of the most successful and prestigious business locations in the UK. Our laboratory is set amidst 3000 acres of beautiful Yorkshire parkland and within easy reach of Manchester, Leeds and Harrogate.

For more information or to apply, please contact Zara Watson on 01756 700 255 or send your CV, cover letter and salary requirements to zwatson@broughtonlaboratories.co.uk

The closing date for applications is 04/06/2010. Successfully shortlisted candidates will be contacted by 11/06/2010.
